I am writing to ask you to reconsider the location currently planned for the proposed methane gas refinery near Seaford. I have recently learned that it is so close to an immigrant community there that this refinery would almost certainly expose residents of all ages to dangerous, potentially lethal elements and, therefore, make them more vulnerable to illness. As you surely know, this would negatively impact all aspects of their daily lives and well being. The good health of all Delaware residents should be the first factor in these decisions, so please find another, safer location to build your plant. Sincerely, Charlene E.W. Bradley
