It's a sad day when citizens have to step in because the government is incapable of protecting its constituents. For the love of Delaware, we need modern wastewater facilities that mountaire farms does not have access to. Don't trust mountaire farms to do the right thing. Companies can't choose to do the right thing because they have to stay alive. It is the government's job to ensure guard rails exist to protect locals from this natural tendency. In this case these guard rails are modern wastewater facilities. The cost in human suffering will be more expensive in the long run. We desperately need governments to think about long term problems. My friends are trying to move now and I'll never visit again. Please fix this, only people with means can even afford this option. Protect the people!
