Comments:

I really can't believe that you're this stupid to propose something that absolutely no one wants. I realize this is your last year in politics as far as being governor, so I guess they have convinced you to do this, so it won't affect you being reelected. I owned a Ford fusion battery powered car from 2016 until 2019. It cost me $100 a month more in my electric bill to charge the car and I never got more than 20 miles out of the charge. I basically lost as much money as I gained from the federal and state subsidies, on top of that it was a very heavy car that did not hold the road very well. I would never own another electric car and will always buy fuel burning cars until I can't get them anymore. I attended the Millcreek Fire Hall Townhall meeting and was overwhelmingly happy that everybody there hated the idea. What are you thinking? The government is only good at screwing things up. Let the market place determine what cars are sold and driven and stop worrying about made up for profit global warming scheme cause it doesn't exist. feel free to appoint me to any committee that you have working on this as you need to have opinions that don't agree with yours. Sincerely Scot, T. Sauer.
