I was at the meeting last night March 30th about the illegal EV mandate. You have to listen to reason, and not just do what you want. There were many facts that show that this is a bad idea and will not work. If there is any doubt at all about the climate change being caused by people, then this mandate needs to be trashed. You heard them last night, so stop your government overreach. It will do more harm than good. The so called scientists can't even get a 10 day weather forecast correct, and you expect us to believe that they will be right 20 years in the future. All the predictions they have made in the past have been wrong, but you want to believe this stupid one. In the 1980's the environmentalists (that must be paying you off) said New York city would be under water by now. Guess what, they were wrong, and they are wrong again. Stop wasting my tax money on a stupid plan that will not work. I guarantee that if you put this mandate into place, I will be moving out of this stupid state, and there will be many others that will do the same. Co2 is not a pollutant, and plants need it to survive . The more Co2 there is, the more vegetation growth it will create, and more oxygen will be produced for the more people that are being born that will need it. If you reduce the CO2 you will reduce the oxygen that we all need to live. Stop thinking with your feelings and use you8r brain for once. Also read the book Hot Talk Cold science, and learn the truth.
