I STRONGLY OPPOSE THIS MANDATE! I live in the Sussex County area and the majority of people where I live are senior citizens. Speaking for myself as well as many many others we cannot afford to purchase an electric vehicle especially within the next TWO YEARS!!! You're pushing a process that should take at least 15/20 years for availability and you're also lining China's pocket since they make a lot of the parts needed for electric batteries! also what is the cost to have special electric outlets installed in all of our homes?

The DEMOCRATS are ruining our finances and we can barely afford to go to the market at this time. You expect everyone to conform to CALIFORNIA'S MANDATES When they are in such huge financial difficulties with everyone moving out of their state. Is that what you want for your state? Sounds like you do and you don't really care about our joy of life!!!! Guess you want people to move out of Delaware and I'm sure the developers who are putting houses up in every square inch of land will not be happy with this 😡
