The electric vehicle mandate STINKS. So we are being FORCED to comply with yet another MANDATE. What happened to freedom in America? Haven't we had our FILL of mandates with all the Covid NONSENSE that we just went through for 3 years? Our childrens' education suffered badly.....what is this administration doing to try to get the kids caught up? That should be the priority! Not trying to follow California's virtue signaling. This EV nonsense is being forced upon us and NOBODY wants it. NOBODY in the middle class here in DE can even afford an EV to begin with. The EV batteries are made in China. By forcing us to purchase and drive EVs, we are enriching our biggest foe - China. We need to be INDEPENDENT as a country, but the EV batteries would make us DEPENDENT on CHINA. As it stands right now, this country has the lowest emissions in the world. I believe we have done ENOUGH. Let China and India and other countries step up to the plate and try some green energy in their countries.
