I am in full support of the Low Emission Vehicle Program and urge Secretary Garvin to implement the plan as proposed. The preponderance of evidence indicates that immediate and significant action needs to be taken to combat the effects of climate change. This proposal is a small part of what needs to be done to hope for a livable planet for future generations. Vehicle emissions are a leading contributor to harmful effects on climate change. The right to a livable environment for us and future generations is paramount. To achieve a livable environment is dependent on the choices we make today. The Low Emission Vehicle Program is a necessary step to take. I implore our state leaders to make the right and moral decision to champion and implement this program.
