Just read an article that DNREC want to mandate that 35% of new vehicles would be electric vehicles by 2026. This would be a burden for Delaware citizens such as myself who are seniors that live on a limited income. I am not nor do I expect to be able to afford an electric vehicle in the next few years.

Requiring the 35% of new vehicles be electric will also drive up the price up for gas powered vehicles.

Not only will Delaware citizens have the burden of purchasing an electric vehicle but find it necessary to install or live near a charging station. The citizens that would be adversely affected by your mandate will be seniors on a limited income and those in a low to medium income brackets. I find it amazing that the only time that you think of seniors is when you want our vote.

Thank you,
