The majority of citizens can not afford an electric vehicle. What ever happened to having a choice? There have been nothing but problems with electric vehicles so far. Would there be as many charging stations as gas stations or would you have to travel a distance or wait in line because there are so few of them? I oppose not having this choice. Be careful if jogging or walking your dog....We walk on a road without sidewalks and you can not hear an electric car coming up behind you they are so quit. Too quiet.....if this happens people will go to other states to purchase a vehicle. Thank you
