I feel that the mandating of electric vehicles should be done at the legislative level, not at the DNREC level of unelected bureaucrats. DNREC does not have the authority to dictate to the public what kinds of cars we are allowed to drive. The electric vehicle may be a good improvement in the future, but the infrastructure should be there to support it. That infrastructure will not be in place for many years. This mandate will cause much hardship for the lower income population who will have trouble affording the sale of electric vehicles.
