Comments:

The proposed "forced" zero emission requirements for new vehicles in the State , is government overreach and unwarranted. In lieu of letting the free market control our future vehicle purchases, you are trying to FORCE the changes on the public. We do not have the infrastructure to implement the requirements. The changes will burden all purchasers with unwanted added costs for vehicles. It eliminates free market choice (anti capitalism). It is unwarranted overreach. We do not have the recycling capacity. We do not have the generating capacity. The economic fallout is immeasurable. The basis for enactment (air pollution) is based upon false data (see air monitoring stations readings).
