This mandate of 35% pretend zero emissions (because breaks dust and tires wear are emission also.)can only work if people buy there cars in Delaware. What if people say f'you and buy cars in other states. Or what if people say you suck Shawn M. Garvin and refuse to buy electric cars ??? Not crap he can do to stop people from getting gas cars as long as dealers have 35% almost emission free on the lot.

Even Elon musk says it's 50 years off.
