Do not agree at all with the vehicle mandate, same arguments I'm sure you've already heard, but apparently not listening to or just just care want we think ? May question I have, when did we become a dictator ship government, when a very small group can dictate what the entire state has to follow, even when we don't agree wi to it ? How does that happen in the United States ? It's not even going through our elected officials, but just denrec, ?
