I oppose the low emissions bill with current dates. Please consider allowing Delawareans more time to transition to EVs. Not only are they expensive, but the mileage on a full charge is not equal to a gas powered vehicle. Mandating hybrids would be a better start to the transition. Lastly, adding 20-30 minutes for a full charge is unreasonable in this day and age, especially when traveling long distances. And what about maintenance issues? Who is fixing my EV if it does not charge correctly? I am not sure we are fully prepared for this transition. Thank you. Merritt Burke
