My concerns are the cost of electric vehicles and their battery replacement costs will not be affordable for the citizens of Delaware/Sussex County, the overwhelming burden on the electric grid which cannot, in all likelihood be affordably upgraded in this very short time period without extraordinary tax burden on the citizenry. In addition, I do not believe the consumer demand is likely to support acquisition of electric vehicles in this very short time period. It is possible over 50-100 years, we could affordably convert from fossil fuels so any requirement to do so should take into account the realistic implementation of new regulations.
