

Subject: 2035 electric car mandate

Date: Thursday, May 18, 2023 at 1:25:50 PM Eastern Daylight Time

From: Alec Rogers

To: HearingComments, DNREC (MailBox Resources)

I do not want an electric vehicle, people should have the choice to what they drive for some people electric cars are worth it but for me absolutely not with towing and driving long distances I don't want to have to stop somewhere and charge my vehicle all because I can not reach my destination on one charge. Also electric vehicles are extremely heavy so if everyone was mandated to have electric vehicles how are our roads going to hold up they barely can handle the loads they have now. Not to mention the extreme price of the batteries if you have batteries go bad which everyone will in a matter of time, people simply can not afford electric vehicles. So to me I say no to the 2035 electric car mandate
Sent from my iPhone