I'm writing to urge adoption of the ACC2 rules for Delaware.

We know we need cleaner air to prevent health issues like asthma.

We know we need to reduce emissions to reduce future worsening of climate change.

We know auto makers are transitioning to EVs across the world by 2035 and beyond.

We know more and more people want to buy these cars at local dealerships, not out of state.

We know it would encourage the buildout of the charging network if private companies know the EVs and charging demand is coming.

We know it takes time to build that infrastructure and the ACC2 gives us the timeline with 3 years to get the infrastructure in shape. It promotes planning not ad hoc catch up when the public moves quickly to EVs. In China they can't sell gas cars because people see where things are going fast.

Let's not get caught unprepared like that.

Let's do this.
