So, I was thinking about;

All the heavy equipment used and their emissions

All the emissions from the transportation needed to get them to the factories

All the emissions from the factories to produce

All the emissions from the electricity factories

None of these emissions have any restrictions because of their country (China) of origin and manufacture.

All the toxic waste generated by used up batteries

The negative impact of our economy because of this mandate

The disproportionatel net gain to the atmosphere by restricting our economy vs the Chinese who see the gain

Those who cannot see this are blind. I do not support this communistic EV mandate
