To Whom it May Concern,

I want to voice my opinion on the push to move to EV cars sales only. I strongly disagree with the effort to push to this agenda. I would suggest pushing to create the infrastructure to support EV vehicles first and once the infrastructure is in place then move to reducing gas car sales. I do not think that I, as a consumer, should be restricted in what I can buy in my home state. This action will only push sales to other states. I see this technology growing and think it will have a natural progression as the technology and its support systems gets better. Mandates do not need to be placed on everyone. Put all this effort to the support systems for EV and the sales and transition will take place.

Again, I strongly disagree with the effort to mandate what type of cars can be sold in the state.
