I oppose this. We do not have a sufficient amount of chargers, the batteries in EV cars are harmful to the environment. People who live in apartments or crowded neighborhoods would not be able to charge their car easily. Cars would run out of power during heavy traffic jams and cause accidents. The batteries are made in China, our enemy. We should not be buying anything from them. We need to use our natural resources. We could be energy sufficient if we used coal and gas. Our country is the least polluter than any other country.
