We are writing to voice our opposition to electric vehicles for many reasons including the following.
Respectfully, Stephen and Jill Gring Lewes DE

1. They cannot go far enough without a charge
2. There cannot possibly be enough charging stations available for all the cars that need them
3. The search and long wait that might be required to use them can be dangerous at night for people driving on their own (Would you want your daughters doing this at night or in isolated areas???)
4. The search and wait times can significantly add to travel times.
5. Lastly, people forget that there is pollution associated with the electrical generation that charges the batteries which offsets the benefit exhaust reduction of said vehicles.
