I oppose the electric vehicle mandate that DNREC and Governor Carney are trying to impose. I am a native Delawarean and am appalled that something from California is trying to be forced on us here without regard to the people of this state. The infrastructure is not available to support this. Our number one industry is Agriculture and the economic impact must not have been given any thought. Without agriculture this state would be broke. The lifestyle of city vs rural is vast even in our small state. There is not a one size fits all solution. There is also the lack of common sense when thinking that electric vehicles will reduce the pollution when all it does is trade it from a vehicle output to a power plant output. The list of reasons why this is not the correct plan for Delaware is vast but the main reason is that this is being pushed onto the state through the back door without regard for its citizens.
