I do not support mandating all new electric vehicle purchases past 2035 because: 1. buying a vehicle should be a choice 2. financial burden for many purchasers 3. ability to charge an all electric vehicle- cost of installing 220 voltage outlet into garage or driveway, and ability to charge your vehicle if you have only on street parking 4. burden on current electrical supply: how will increased need for electricity be produced and/or supplied?, will this increased electrical production cause even more pollution than we currently have even though it may be different pollution? 5. ability to produce this new larger stronger type of battery, cost to replace batteries 6. currently the all electric vehicles do not have enough power for distance driving such as trips
