To whom it may concern, This "mandate" appears to be very authoritarian and dictatorial in rule. It is unlawful and should be deliberated and voted on in legislature. It is very inconsiderate of the working men and women of this great state who bust their backs as small cogs on this proverbial wheel that keeps not just Delaware going, but the entire United States of America. Furthermore, our current electric grid and infrastructure cannot even handle the power demand/load that we are faced with during our summer months, let alone adding the demand that EV's will require for charging. Which poses the blatantly obvious question, who is going to pay for the required upgrades? Which isn't a question at all, because we all know that it will be put on the small business owners and consumers backs to foot the bill through unjustified tax hikes. Please consider these few points of many as to why this mandate is unlawful and should not even be considered as quasi good idea. With Love for my Country and the state of Delaware, Sincerely, Vincent Cochran
