Comments:

I totally oppose the construction of wind turbines off the coast of Delaware. This is totally unnecessary as we have plenty of fossil fuel in this country that can be extracted very responsibly and economically. We can refine this raw product very cleanly and efficiently. These wind turbines will and already has negatively effected the marine life. It also poses a threat to the fishing industry and any recreational fishermen. Also the negative effect on the overall coastline. Our planet is not going to burst into flames. Our government want to hold us to these standards that will effect everyone's lives in a negative way and ultimately make everything we buy more expensive while other countries just pollute in every way with no consequence. Let focus on the real issues that this country has like illegal immigration, crime and inflation.
