Comments on Docket #2024-P-MULTI-0007 -- US Wind Project

Organization: No

Comments:

These wind turbines are an eyesore and costly to manufacture. They produce a vibration and humming sound. This causes wind turbine syndrome in humans. What will it do to the marine animals? These turbines have a lifespan of only 20 years and are not biodegradable. They emit microplastics in the air and require 700 gallons of oil to keep lubricated annually. If built, these will ruin the natural beauty of the shoreline considering the proximity to the coast. We will loose our gorgeous unobstructed sunrise. These turbines will lower property values and discourage tourism to the area. Please do not allow the wind turbines off the Delaware Maryland coastline.
