Comments:

I was fortunate enough to move to Yorklyn in 2021, just before its beauty was marred by the deforestation. I cherished my drive home from work each day when I would turn onto Yorklyn Road, where I was met with a seemingly endless expanse of nature. However, that ended quickly when construction was readying to begin. The private road on which I live has had drainage issues ever since. Hearing that more destruction to the natural beauty of my home is coming, just to cover up the failings of a businessman, is upsetting to say the least. I love the forest, let's keep it green.
