America's wetlands are a precious natural resource. No other country has the exact combination of animal and plant life as our eco systems and it is our duty to protect these delicate areas of national pride. We are known as a nation of unsullied national beauty and should maintain these spaces with patriotism and not allow private companies to triumph over the individual citizens who cherish and enjoy this land as neighbors and as tourists. Please do not allow sewage to flow into outlr waterways. It damages the health of American children and American animals.
