Agree with the extension of the coyote hunt season. They are now coming into home communities in Sussex Co. Dangerous for citizens out walking pets, specially in our 55+ community. And the fact I am disabled needing an aid to walk. Fear they will sense my vulnerability too. I've seen a coyote walk between homes one door down on a pursuit for a meal twice. Our community is no longer allowing new fence structures. Yes, I know they can jump them. Though still can be a deterrent. The infrastructure from all these new buildings isn't helping. As lost fields and land similar gone, driving more wildlife into communities.
