Comments:

I feel that this surprising law in not a very smart move states losing hunter number as it is and now this law will limit youth ability to hunt. I grow up with a no father and mother, so I learned hunting from my uncle and after about 15 hunted by myself and continue to this day safely. I feel if I must supervise a what state considers a child under 21 should be able to by youth hunting license at a lower cost. I also think this law is unenforceable and just another feel good law for currently government. Thanks john
