Comments:

The Delaware state parks are where locals like myself have been going all their lives, enjoying all of the attractions that it has to offer. While I am not one to display political flags or messages, restricting park goers from doing so is a direct violation of the first amendment of the constitution. It is appalling that the parks are even suggesting these measures. If this measure passes, it will do significant damage to the public view of the parks, and the parks will rightfully be subject to public scrutiny.
