Dear Sir/Madam,

While I see that there is a frantic push for power to assist in AI among other technologies that require an exorbitant amount of electricity these days, I also see that there should be limitations based on the protection of God's creation.

I understand that the Coastal Zone Act of 1971 and amendments in 2017 were created to protect this very creation. The grid and the environment cannot handle this and it should be prohibited.

Please do not harm our environment for our further generations. It is not about power or money, it is about protection of our costal waterways.

Sincerely,

Teresa S [REDACTED]
