To the Coastal Zone Act Program,

I am writing to express my strong opposition to the proposed Starwood data center near Delaware City. I urge DNREC to stop this project or require the highest level of review and safeguards under the Coastal Zone Act.

My concerns focus on the environmental impact and the strain this facility would place on our electric infrastructure. A project of this scale would add a significant load to an already stressed system. Families are dealing with rising electric costs, and any added pressure that leads to further increases would be harmful. Many households are already struggling with higher prices across the board, and this project does not appear to benefit the people who live here.

A development that increases pollution risk, raises utility costs, and offers little direct support for Delaware residents should not move forward. I ask DNREC to prioritize the wellbeing of our communities and the protection of our natural resources.

Thank you for considering my comments.

Sincerely,

Judy W [REDACTED]
