I have concerns about the pending regulation about the mandatory phase out of gas and diesel powered vehicles in Delaware. My concerns are:

- 1. This will affect the poor and middle class by forcing them to purchase unaffordable vehicles. Elimination choice will only drive up individual expense.
- 2. Cost to homeowners and companies caused by upgrading the power grid.
- 3. Cost of raw materials purchased from foreign sources.
- 4. Is the electric battery industry mature enough to provide efficient battery recycling.
- 5. Affect on the automobile sale and service retail business.
- 6. What will happen to all the used gasoline and diesel cars between now and 2035. Affordable used cars will disappear.

I believe these regulations will have many unintended consequences not thought of.

Thank you for your consideration.
