Subject: Zero emission mandate

Mr Garvin how ridiculous of even thinking to continue being involved with this zero emission mandate for Delaware. We're NOT California!!

What's the point of zero emissions from a car/truck if the electric is from coal?

Electric vehicles should be a goal in the far far future NOT and NOT a mandate and, the goal only reachable when logistics resources are in place!

DNREC has too much power. They have no business in this decision. I think this adoption is terrible!

I think your completely out of touch with reality . Everyday I wake up thinking, what are they going to screw up today.

This can be compared to the recent debacle administered by Mr. Carney's administration to change state retiree health benefits. They implemented a change without proper upfront preparation and with little regard to retiree health benefits!

I am no longer amazed at the stupid ideas you come up with. Such a shame you can't buy common sense.

Please for the sake of Delaware taxpayers/residence pull out of this mandate!!
