Shawn Garvin,

I strongly believe that the proposed changes of the EV mandate will be a major impact on the future of our economy. The changes will be astronomical and will be a major factor in rising cost of the vehicles and will not only effect the people who are on fixed incomes and minimum wages, but will also affect the overall businesses that are not able to meet the requirements of the proposed changes.

Our infrastructure is not designed to meet these requirements and it will be difficult to meet these demands to achieve them.

Not to mention the time to charge the vehicle and the travel distance. This will slow the country down considerably and make it more difficult to supply products to the stores that are needed for medical purposes, food and other essential items.

The only benefits will be to the people who do not have to travel far and do not supply goods to businesses. The agricultural industry will also be affected if they are forced to comply with the proposed changes.

Our business is supplying the necessary services to farms and the products that are needed to keep their operations going are essential for their continued success.

I oppose the change.
