Dear Mr. Krall;

I am traveling and unable to join the reviews scheduled for this week, but I would like to provide input via email for this new proposed regulation.

1. As a member of a free-market society, I would appreciate continuing to be able to decide the vehicle choices available to me as a Delawarean.
2. I have had experience driving an EV with mixed feelings of its effectiveness/efficiency. I have no plans to purchase one based on cost/value.
3. Government intrusion in controlling our decisions for vehicles is clear over-reach and abuse of power. The data does not back this level of control; please stop trying to imply there's an over-arching benefit for the environment as a result of this restriction in purchasing decisions.

If you have data that proves/justifies, please share.

Please consider this input.

Sincerely,
Lynn Mey
