All of you that are proposing banning gas vehicles are so off the world of reality.

We don't have the infrastructure for it

The technology is not good enough to allow reasonable travel.

The cost of these vehicles is prohibitive.

You will be eliminated thousands upon thousands of Jobs that will not be replaced on the EV market.

It's obvious the idiots who are doing this never ran a business and should all have to take a basic class of "Business 101"
