To Whom it may concern,

The illegal administrative policies you are attempting to shove down the throats of the populace are going to end up hurting those who can least take the hit.

Lower income and fixed income citizens not to mention all of the illegals that have been imported here and our already California tier homeless population.

The fact that this is being done right after West Virginia vs. EPA is shameful at best. A 6-3 decision in the Supreme Court is no joke.

Let alone that the electric generation on the Delmarva peninsula could never keep up with an all electric vehicle fleet DNREC simply DOES NOT have the authority, or the Governor for that matter, to enact what in fact should be LEGISLATION.

There is a reason we have a legislature that can be (somewhat) held accountable at the ballot box (the integrity of which has been deteriorating rapidly) and don't let professional bureaucrats in state agencies decide our fate, AND YOU ARE PROVING IT.

I hope DNREC and Carney get their pants sued off of them, as grisly a graphic vision as that conjures.

How are you going to power the new load on the electric grid? Build more coal burning power houses like China? Solar power isn't going to cut it and every wind farm I've ever seen in the US is usually only operating at 30%, we saw what happened to Texas when they needed the power the most it wasn't there.

Your policies will not only put people out of business, it will kill people. It will ensure that no one in a lower income class or starting out can ever make it. You will kill our fixed income retirees, including US Veterans.

It will kill our farms, our transportation, it will kill us all in the end.

Stop the madness.
