I suggest that the CA standards are not applicable to DE.

I suspect that those that are proposing the standard are more highly invested in something to bring wealth to themselves.

I recently saw a notice to the Electric Ford driver to not try to heat his cab with truck but instead use gloves and warm boots so you don't kill the mileage on the truck.

Don't go there!!

Wait and see how it works out.

I can put gas in my vehicle in 20 minutes and continue my journey for several hours.
