Good morning,

This is a sore subject. Where does delaware think people will get money for these very expensive cars? How will those of us on fixed incomes afford it? How will we get around if power goes out? Who's stupid idea is this, do they have any idea about costs, car, replacement battery, or even the destruction of the earth for platium and lithium. These needs to be put to vote? No one I have talked to is in favor of this. King Carney and the legislators may have this kind of money but the average person doesn't.

thank you, jean lindsay
