electric auto mandate

John Low <k3jl@verizon.net>

Fri 12/30/2022 10:47 AM

To: Krall, Kyle (DNREC) <Kyle.Krall@delaware.gov>

I oppose this mandate, the electric infrastructure is going to have to be greatly improved before we can make this a mandate.
Also what are people who live in apartment complexes do charge their vehicles even if the electric can handle the loads . What about evacuations in cases of emergencies where traffic will be backed up on evacuation routes, vehicles will be dying and blocking roads, before instituting mandate we better be sure this can be avoided.
If electric is really the way to go, a mandate will not be necessary the market and technology will show the way.
There are many other reasons not to mandate this, I want to keep this as short as possible.
Do not shove this down our throats.

John and Barbara Low
Georgetown, DE